

Wireless voice access should still be prohibited onboard commercial aircraft to prevent disturbing other passengers. Wireless voice access should BE allowed however in emergency situations.

Wireless data access could be allowed as long as the above stipulations are in place.